

Fifty Shades of Law

*Darling, it's not going to spank
itself, you know.*

How do you deal with law enforcement when it involves kink?

- If cops ask you about a prior scene you had, don't make any statements and ask for an attorney.
- If the cops show up at your door during a scene, volunteer for your partner to speak to them.
- You have the right not to make statements. If you do, be honest that you are doing consensual BDSM.
- Explain the difference between consensual BDSM and abuse.
- You do not have to consent to search or voluntary entry, but if the cops demand entry, voice your objection and step aside.

Stay calm, be courteous, and use
your common sense!
